

In her personal exhibition, artist Jūlija Eresko discusses the questions of the meaning of life

What will happen to a civilization that cultivates the energy of hatred and chaos? Such reflections on the value of life prompted the artist Julia Eresco to create works for the personal exhibition "SOS. Life Matters", which translates from English as "Life matters". The exhibition includes the artist's paintings, complemented by light objects, video stories and installations. The exhibition can be viewed from October 28 in the "Museum.lv" gallery.
